

Spiritual Warrior In Training

Iyanla Vanzant

Hello beautiful 💖 and good morning on this sunny Saturday, good evening to you :) I wanted to share what has just come through to me with you. In a healing I had for myself this week the Elohim of the Violet Ray have come forth and their message was that they will be working with me (and I suspect you) for the next 24 months (2 years) assisting me to assist those that are called and ready to Transform - - the people that you feel guided to send to me.

What has come through this morning is that there is a Code that is wanting to come through to assist those connected to your Spiritual Warrior II program (or perhaps this may be others I am not sure you will know, and then again maybe it won't) this is directly coming through the violet ray.

When I bring it in, I will send it to you and know that if you feel called to use it in any way let me know as I then won't make it accessible to anyone else just yourself and your clients. Whatever you are planning or doing is powerful because it is being sourced directly from on high.

THREE PILLARS OF SELF

QUALITIES OF A SPIRITUAL WARRIOR

"I know so much and I know that I am about to know more.

Just because something has always been that way, I know that this time it can be different. I allow for that and take responsibility accordingly."

- Paraphrased from The Teachings of Lazaris

QUALITIES OF A SPIRITUAL WARRIOR

A Spiritual Warrior knows that real and lasting peace and happiness can come only after one realizes their true nature.

For this reason, a Spiritual Warrior chooses self-awareness and self-realization as a personal mission which gives them the opportunity to heal and grow in order to serve in the world.

A Spiritual Warrior is a beacon of light.
They know that they are working for a cause bigger than
himself;
transformation
of the world.

A Spiritual Warrior knows that in order to fulfill the vision of this cause, they are “charged” to stay in the best possible shape physically, mentally and emotionally.

Toward this, there are specific qualities or standards that a Warrior works to incorporate into their day-to-day endeavors and experiences.

Accountability
-process and
practice of doing
what you say you
will do;
taking yourself
into account for
any broken
commitments
or agreements.

an intention or desire that allows you to fall and get back up again with
